

Back To The Queer Future #5: Duck The Police

There are a number of cops hidden in the city. You need to work out how many there are lurking. To help you work this out, Rose has friends positioned in various blocks around the city. Each one of them is keeping an eye on the surrounding blocks, and have signalled to Rose how many cops they can see.

The grid below contains empty squares and numbered squares representing the city blocks. The numbers indicate how many cops are located in adjacent empty squares, including diagonally adjacent.

Instructions:

- Mark squares that contain a cop with an “o”
- Mark squares that can’t contain a cop with an “x”
- The goal is to work out how many cops there are
